PREDICT NEW LOW FOR PRAIRIE WHEAT IF BRITAIN PAYS

ACTION WOULD CRIPPLE CANADIAN EXPORTS FINANCIAL EXPERTS SAY

OTTAWA.—Though Canada has no direct concern with the payments due by the United Kingdom to the United States, on the 15th of the month, negotiations between the two countries are being followed with the keenest interest here because of indirect effects which are likely to follow.

Sterling, which has already dipped once or twice to historic low levels, will, in the event of enforced payments, fall still lower, according to the financial experts here. This in turn will cause the Winnipeg wheat market, governed by Liverpool prices, to break to new record levels, and will have similar adverse effects on export prices of live cattle, apples, lumber, pulp and other commodities.

Agriculture has been demanding that the Canadian dollar be driven down to parity with the pound sterling. As sterling continues to fall, thus widening the gap and placing the Canadian exporter at a greater disadvantage in the United Kingdom market, this demand grows more and more persistent. The war debt settlement arrived at between Britain and the United States is therefore expected to have a bearing on inflationist sentiment in this country.

ARRANGEMENTS WERE COMPLETED LAST WEEK AND WHEREBY MR. J. W. JOHNSON, WHO FOR THE PAST SEVEN YEARS HAS BEEN THE EDITOR AND PUBLISHER OF THE ALLIANCE TIMES, WILL, ON JANUARY 1ST NEXT, TAKE OVER THE PREMISES, PRINTING PLANT AND BUSINESS OF THE WAINWRIGHT STAR.

In making these changes, Mr. Johnson is making a decided step forward in the printing and newspaper industry, and we bespeak for our successor the same support and the same kindly business dealings which have for so many years featured the happy relations existing between all classes and peoples of the wide territory which for the past twenty-four years has been covered by The Star. All accounts owing to The Star up to and including December 31st are payable to the undersigned, after which date Mr. Johnson will have sole charge.

| Wainwright Gas Co. | 85.33 |
| Wainwright Pharmacy | 11.50 |
| O. R. Hannah | 2.50 |
| Telephone | 4.35 |

Moved by trustee Washburn.—That the report of the finance committee be accepted and that checks be issued for the several amounts.—Carried.

Principal Thoreson reported that November enrollment numbered 304, and that there had been 15 withdrawals since the term opened. Also that the medical health officer had inspected all pupils in regard to the outbreak of "Prairie Itch."

Moved by trustee Washburn.—That the report of the Trust officer for the month of November be accepted and filed, and that a copy be sent to the department for record.—Carried.

Moved by trustee Courser.—That the secretary advise the Board of Health of the outbreak of "Prairie Itch" among school children, and suggest that they take action to obtain the co-operation of all parents in the district, in the cure and prevention of further cases of this nature.—Carried.

As this concluded the business, the meeting was then adjourned.

ON MOTION, THE SECRETARY-TREASURER WAS INSTRUCTED TO WRITE THE PROVINCIAL DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH WITH A VIEW OF ASCERTAINING THE DUTIES OF THE MEDICAL HEALTH OFFICER, APPOINTED ANNUALLY BY THE TOWN OF WAINWRIGHT AT A SALARY OF $100.00 PER ANNUM.

On motion, the Secretary-Treasurer was instructed to take immediate steps, as authorized by the Town Act of the Province of Alberta, to enforce the collection of arrears of taxes, at the present time standing on the roll against property within the Town of Wainwright where the assessed owner is entitled to rental or where the assessed owner is making such use of his property as would necessitate his paying rental therefor, were the property owned by another.

On motion, Council was regularly adjourned.

KILL 1,200 BISON OF WAINWRIGHT HERD

Buffalo steaks, roasts and tongues, delicacies of the plainsman in western Canada's early days, again will claim place of honor on the menus of eastern Canada during the next few weeks. Several carloads of buffalo meat, secured in the annual process of reducing the numbers of the largest herd of wild buffalo in the world, at Buffalo national park at Wainwright, are rolling eastward. First shipments should reach the east this coming week-end.

This year the government awarded a contract for slaughtering 1,200 buffalo. The meat from 100 of the animals was used in the making of pemican, which the federal government will distribute for the relief of distressed Indians and Eskimo tribes in the North West Territories and the Arctic. About 1,000 choice animals have been cut up and are being shipped to eastern butchers, who have found a ready demand for buffalo meat.—Edmonton Journal.

SCHOOL BOARD DECIDE CUT CADET TRAINING

The regular meeting of the School Board was held Dec. 5. All members were present.

Minutes of the last regular meeting were adopted as read on motion by trustee Hannah.

Communication received from Mr. D. S. A. Kyle requesting a testimonial from the board regarding his services during the time that he was principal of the school.

Moved by trustee Hannah.—That testimonial be sent to Mr. Kyle as requested.—Carried.

Communication received from the Department of National Defense in regard to continuance of Cadet training.

Moved by trustee Washburn.—That the secretary advise Major Miller, district cadet instructor, that this board finds that the teaching schedule will not provide this work being carried on this year.—Carried.

The Finance committee reported the following bills with recommendation for payment:

MARTIANS IF ANY

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—The extreme changes in temperatures of the planet Mars, would make it necessary that inhabitants be of great physical stamina. In the day the temperature is well above freezing, but at night it falls far below zero. T. E. R. Phillips, British astronomer, claims that if there are any Martians, they must be somewhat like our North American Eskimos.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my dear husband, Levi Percy Hussey, who passed away December 16th, 1928.

Sailing into the cloud land,
Sailing into the sun,
Into the crimson portals ajar
When life is done?
Oh dear dead loved one, my spirit too
Would fain sail westward unto you.
Mrs. Hussey.

BOY SCOUTS REPAIR TOYS FOR TINY TOTS

It won't be the fault of the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides of Wainwright if the needy children of this vicinity do not have a Merry Christmas. They are working together repairing broken toys of all kinds and fixing them, painting them and getting them ready for the little tots that would not otherwise have a visit from Santa.

The Boy Scouts are asking everybody that has an old toy that has been broken to send it to them, so that they can repair it and paint it up. The Girl Guides have offered their services and are helping by mending dolls, dressing them, and helping get them ready for that little girl that wouldn't get one otherwise.

All those who have toys of any kind are asked to send them either to the school, so that they may be gathered and taken to Dr. Wallace's residence, or to take them directly to his home. Dr. Wallace has consented to let the Boy Scouts and the Guides use the basement of his home for the repair shop.

It is hoped that everybody will assist in this venture, and that all will aid in every way possible in procuring broken toys so that they can be fixed and sent into some home to brighten the little folks there when that day of all days arrives.

PRESENTATION TO REV. FATHER DOYLE

On Sunday evening last at a gathering of the parishioners of the church of the Blessed Sacrament, a happy little ceremony was conceived when the presentation was made to their pastor, Rev. Hugo Doyle, on behalf of the congregation, of a beautiful purse. The recipient, although taken by surprise, in a few well-chosen words suitably acknowledged the timely gift, and later refreshments were served by the ladies to the large number present for the occasion.

Miles Mabey was thrown from his horse and injured while rounding up the buffalo at the park last week. Because of the lack of snow, the ground has been very slippery for round-up work at the park.

NEW CONVENT FORMALLY OPENS THIS THURSDAY

CEREMONY OF BLESSING WILL BE PERFORMED BY ARCH-BISHOP O'LEARY

There is an element of chance about every human happening! Chance was very much in evidence when the Sisters of St. Joseph arrived in Wainwright a little over a year ago.

While the parishioners of St. Luke's parish had fondly cherished the idea of a convent boarding school yet it seemed that for many years to come the dream would have to remain just a dream; however, due to the personal urgent petition of their pastor, Rev. Hugo Doyle, presented at the motherhouse of the Sisters of St. Joseph, at Peterborough, Ontario, it was soon decided that four of these sisters would follow him to Wainwright.

It is without doubt an unprecedented happening in the history of the diocese of Edmonton that the sisters should be able to establish themselves and build a convent all in the short space of one year—and in a year when economic conditions have been at their worst.

THE FOURTEENTH CANADIAN EGG LAYING CONTEST GOT AWAY TO A GOOD START AT THE CENTRAL EXPERIMENTAL FARM, OTTAWA, FOR THE WEEK ENDING NOVEMBER 7. MOST OF THE BIRDS WERE RECEIVED IN EXCELLENT CONDITION AND APPEARED TO BE OUTSTANDING IN QUALITY. DURING THE FIRST WEEK ONLY SIX PENS FAILED TO SCORE, WHILE EGG WEIGHTS APPEAR MUCH BETTER THAN LAST YEAR. DUE TO THE BUILDING FOR THIS CONTESTS HAVING BEEN DIVIDED INTO SEPARATE PENS, SPACE AVAILABLE HAS REDUCED THE CAPACITY IN THE NATIONAL CONTEST: A TOTAL OF 54 PENS.

NEW CONTEST UNDER WAY

Moved by trustee Washburn.—That the report of the finance committee be accepted and that checks be issued for the several amounts.—Carried.

Principal Thoreson reported that November enrollment numbered 304, and that there had been 15 withdrawals since the term opened. Also that the medical health officer had inspected all pupils in regard to the outbreak of "Prairie Itch."

Moved by trustee Washburn.—That the report of the Trust officer for the month of November be accepted and filed, and that a copy be sent to the department for record.—Carried.

Moved by trustee Courser.—That the secretary advise the Board of Health of the outbreak of "Prairie Itch" among school children, and suggest that they take action to obtain the co-operation of all parents in the district, in the cure and prevention of further cases of this nature.—Carried.

As this concluded the business, the meeting was then adjourned.

WHY WHEAT IS CHEAP

The low price of wheat is due to three major factors:

1. War-time forcing of production and a stupendously increased acreage in western Canadian lands came under settlement.
2. Diminished consumption, resulting from the world's economic depression.
3. Forced production in European countries as a defense and war-time measure. That policy started in Italy, France and other European countries after the armistice of 1918. In Italy Mussolini has given that purpose his personal attention for 10 years, with the result that Italy is now within 8 per cent of its normal consumption of 300,000,000 bushels. By appeals to patriotism and a generous awarding of prizes, Italy's pre-war production of 15.5 bushels an acre has been brought up to 31.5, and the Associated Press reports from Rome that acreage has been increased somewhat through the big reclamation projects of the fascist government, but chiefly by teaching farmers how to get a heavier yield.

The contention that low wheat prices in the States are due to retaliation against the Smoot-Hawley tariff, was campaign claptrap. That act was not passed until 1930, and it put a tariff of only 43 cents a bushel on wheat, an act of moderation as against the French tariff of 65 cents a bushel, the German of $1.60, the Italian of 86 cents. Besides their tariff rates, European countries enacted severe restrictions requiring millers to mix high percentages of home wheat with foreign grain. Spain entirely prohibits imports of wheat.

ADVERTISING IS EFFECTIVE

Here is a story picked up at one of the recent group meetings of the Oklahoma Press Association that any publisher can afford to pass on to the merchants of his town. The best part of story is the fact that it really happened in 1931 or early in 1932. Yet some business men say today that "Advertising is of little value during the present business situation." Here is the story we heard, as written by one publisher attending the meeting:

"One editor, in a small town, population 1,072, once a banker, told a story that points a moral. He said that in his town was a merchant who had been in business for seventeen years. In all that time his credit had been good, but in the present depression he had found collections bad and as a consequence unable to meet an $800 note at the bank and an open account of $400, although perfectly solvent. He asked the editor-banker for advice. The editor placed the merchant's case before a large bank in an adjoining town and they readily advanced the merchant the money to pay his note and account. The editor was then asked by the merchant what he could do to raise some ready money. Have you ever had a sale?" asked the editor. "No," the merchant replied. He was persuaded to try one. He used advertising liberally in the small paper of the town. His store was crowded during the sale. At the close he found he had enough to pay his $800 note and his $400 account and had $1,300 left. He unhesitatingly gave the credit advertising."—The Oklahoma Publisher.

WHY THEY HAVE FAITH IN CANADA

"Is it possible for anyone not to believe in Canada?" This is a question asked by the U.S. Liberty magazine, which proceeds to point out the reasons why faith should not falter. When the Liberty magazine devotes an editorial to Canada's greatness, it is no doubt an axe to grind. But in this age of publicity, any printed article in a foreign country, containing complimentary reference to our country is of direct benefit to us. It helps in the business of getting acquainted. The editorial referred to says: "Canada is no longer a mere ribbon of population from coast to coast numerically no larger than Greater London. She rightly stands in the front rank of world powers."

"Canada is no longer a geographically vast territory isolated from the rest of the world. In 1930 she became second in importance as a manufacturing country in the British Empire. During the past twenty years the gross value of her manufactured products has increased by the amazing total of $2,062,000,000. There are 24,020 plants in Canada employing 644,439 persons and representing a capital investment of $5,208,316,760."

"The sophisticated Canadian shopper need no longer gratify buying whims in Paris, London, or New York. Canadian department stores are ranked among the world's greatest. In Toronto, a city of 631,000 population, the annual retail-store volume reaches the astounding total of $400,000,000."

"Canada no longer confines her exports to a few commodities in limited markets. At the end of 1931 she held fifth position among all countries in volume of exports. Her products reach practically every country on the face of the globe."

"Canada has become the source of envy and admiration in her honest forthright methods of law enforcement. Her nonpolitical judiciary metes out justice swiftly and surely. And in her hall of fame are the glorious annals of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police—the finest tradition serving any law-enforcement agency in the world."

"The foreign investor believes in Canada—believes in her to the extent of over six billion dollars invested capital. The United States investor, in particular, believes in Canada to the extent of $3,726,745,000—almost two thirds of the foreign investments in the Dominion."

"Canada's accolade of complete acceptance as a ranking world power, was bestowed at the Imperial Economic Conference in Ottawa. Evidence of world-wide interest in the parley was indicated in the fact that over three million words in press dispatches were telegraphed and cabled to all parts of the world."

Odd—but TRUE

Main End of Human Life Not Continual Drudgery Too Much Work is Done

I was brought up on the saying, "Batan finds some mischief still for idle hands to do." Being a highly virtuous child, I acquired a conscience which has kept me working hard. But although my conscience has controlled my actions, my opinions have undergone a revolution. I think that there is far too much work done in the world, and that immense harm is caused by the belief that work is virtuous, states Bertrand Russell, English scientist and philosopher, writing in Harper's Magazine.

First of all: what is work? Work is of two kinds: first, altering the position of matter; second, telling other people to do so. The first kind is unpleasant and ill paid; the second is pleasant and highly paid. The second kind is capable of infinite extension; there are not only those who give orders, but those who give advice as to what orders should be given. Usually two opposite kinds of advice are given simultaneously by two different bodies of men; this is called politics.

From the beginning of civilization until the industrial revolution a man could, as a rule, produce by hard work little more than was required for subsistence. Modern technique, however, has made it possible to diminish enormously the amount of labor necessary to produce the necessities of life for everyone. This was made obvious during the war. At that time all the men in the armed forces, all the men and women engaged in the production of munitions, or working in offices connected with the war, were withdrawn from productive occupations. In spite of this the general level of well-being among wage-earners on the side of the Allies was higher than before or since. The significance of this fact was concealed by finance. Borrowing money appeared as if the future was nourishing the present. But that, of course, would have been impossible, a man cannot eat a loaf of bread that does not yet exist. The war showed conclusively that by the scientific organization of production it was possible to keep modern populations in fair comfort on a small part of the working capacity of the modern world. If, at the end of the war the scientific organization had been preserved and the hours of work cut down to four, all would have been well. Instead, the old chaos was restored, those whose work was demanded were made to work long hours, and the rest were left to starve as unemployed. Why? Because work is looked upon as a duty.

Let us, for a moment, consider the ethics of work frankly. Every human being, of necessity, consumes in the course of his life, a certain amount of produce of human labor. Assume, as we may, that labor is on the whole disagreeable, it is unjust that a man should consume more than he produces. Of course, he may provide services rather than commodities like a medical man, but he should provide something in return for his board and lodging. To this extent, the duty of work must be admitted, but to this extent only.

If the ordinary wage earner worked four hours a day there would be enough for everybody, and no unemployment—assuming sensible organization. This idea shocks the wealthy, because they are convinced that the poor would not know how to use so much leisure. In America men often work long hours even when they naturally are indignant at the idea of leisure for wage earners; in fact they dislike leisure even for their own sons. Oddly enough, they do not mind their wives and daughters having no work at all.

In the West we have various ways of dealing with the problem of doing too much work. We have no attempt at economic justice, so that a large proportion of the total product goes to a small minority, many of whom do not work at all. Owing to the absence of any central control over production, we produce hosts of things that are not wanted. We keep a large percentage of the working population idle and make others overwork. When all these methods prove inadequate we have a war: we cause a number of people to manufacture high explosives, and others to explode them. By a combination of all these devices we manage, though with difficulty, to keep alive the notion that a great deal of manual work must be the lot of the average man.

The fact is that moving matter about while a certain amount of it is quite necessary, is emphatically not one of the ends of human life. If it were, we should have to consider every navy superior to Shakespeare. We have been misled in this matter by the heredity rich who, in order to keep the poor contented, preached the dignity of labor, while taking care to remain undignified in this respect.

It will be said that while a little leisure is pleasant, men would not know what to do with too much of it. Insofar as this is true in the modern world it is a condemnation of our civilization; it would not have been true at any earlier period. There was formerly a capacity for light-heartedness and play which has been inhibited by the cult of efficiency. I do not mean that the world's leisure should necessarily be spent in pure frivolity. I mean that four hours work a day should entitle a man to the necessities and elementary comforts of life, and that the rest of his life should be his to use as he might see fit. It is an essential part of any such social system that education should be carried farther, and should aim in part, at providing tastes which would enable a man to use leisure intelligently. I am not thinking of "highbrow" things. Peasant dances have died out, but the impulses which caused them must still exist in human nature. The pleasures of urban populations have become mainly passive; cinemas, football matches, the radio, etc. With more leisure, people would again enjoy pleasures in which they took an active part.

In the past there was a small leisure class and a large working class. The leisure class enjoyed advantages for which there was no basis in social justice. This necessarily made it oppressive, and limited its sympathies, but in spite of this drawback it contributed nearly the whole of what we call civilization: it cultivated the arts and discovered the sciences; it wrote the books, invented the philosophies, and refined social relations. Without the leisure class mankind would never have emerged from barbarism.

In a world where no one is compelled to work more than four hours a day every person possessed of scientific curiosity will be able to indulge it, and every painter will be able to paint without starving, however excellent his pictures may be. Above all, there will be happiness and joy of life, instead of frayed nerves, weariness and dyspepsia. The work exacted will be enough to make leisure delightful, but not enough to produce exhaustion. Ordinary men and women, having the opportunity of a happy life, will become more kindly and less inclined to view others with suspicion. Good nature is, of all moral qualities, the one that the world needs most, and good nature is the result of ease and security, not of a life of arduous struggle.

Modern methods of production have given us the possibility of ease and security for all; we have chosen instead to overwork some and starve others. Hitherto we have continued to be as energetic as we were before there were machines. In this we have been foolish, but there is no reason to go on being foolish forever.

Like their other brother and sister the twins born Saturday also were a girl and a boy.—Ex.

Canadian Pacific Welcomes Co-operation But Opposes Compulsory Arbitration

E. W. Beatty K. G., Chairman and President Makes Vigorous Protest Against Proposed Arbitral Board in Presenting Company's Case Before Senate Committee Considering Legislation to Implement Duff Report.

WELCOMING the suggestion of co-operation and voluntary arbitration, but vigorously protesting against the proposed Arbitral Board and compulsory arbitration, E. W. Beatty, K. G., Chairman and President, Canadian Pacific Railway, recently stated the case for his Company before the Senate Railway Committee considering legislation to implement recommendations made by the Royal Commission on Railways and transportation in Canada.

Mr. E. W. Beatty continued, "will Chairman and President show that the Arbitral Board is a body of joint terminals and the pooling of traffic. The former are the nerve centres of railway operations, and the latter involve the whole benefits received from such operations. It is to be open to either party to propose measures involving these vital matters, and if agreement is not reached, both the principle of the proposal and the terms on which it is to be carried out are to be left to arbitration. It will be noted that every one of the subjects involves questions of policy, questions of administration, and underlying both of those, questions of finance, and, for that reason, they are in my submission, not fit and proper to be determined by arbitration. The Company welcomes the suggestion of voluntary arbitration as to such matters. They are quite proper to be subject of voluntary co-operation, but the Company is startled by the suggestion that they may be forced upon it by an authority not responsible to its shareholders. Control by a tribunal constituted of proposed arbitrators, and the pooling of the vast railway company operating in competition with the Government Railways.

"The sweeping character of the arbitration feature of the Bill is shown by the provisions of Section 17, which declares that it is to extend to all disputes between the two companies. Probably this expression was intended as incidental to the measures of co-operation enumerated in Section 19, but, in any case, it opens up a very wide field of jurisdiction. "As to the Arbitral Tribunal, it will be observed that whether they consist of three or five members, the Canadian Pacific is in every case to have a voice in the appointment of only one member of the Board. In the last analysis, therefore, the Company will be completely divested of control of its property in favour of an outside authority. I cannot too strongly urge upon you the serious nature of this feature of the Bill, as well from the standpoint of public policy as of the rights and interests of the shareholders of the Canadian Pacific. "To control of its undertaking as provided by the existing statutory law, the Company takes no exception. Regulations through the Board of Railway Commissioners and the control of rates, facilities and services in the interest of the public is a proper subject of legislation, but Part III of the proposed Bill is a very different matter. "If it be the view of Parliament that co-operation shall be controlled and directed by another independent tribunal, whose decisions shall be final and binding on the Canadian Pacific, then I would suggest, for your consideration, that the Government of Canada and the Canadian Pacific should enter into an agreement for a period of years by which the Company would agree to this form of administration upon receiving protection to the holders of its securities and shares; that consideration being given because of the relinquishment of the control of their own property during the term of such agreement. "In leading up to his statement of the Company's position, Mr. Beatty pointed to the great part the Company has played in the up-building of Canada and argued that the proposed Arbitral Board was in fact an invasion of the Company's charter rights, rights granted it in return for constructing the road and thus making Confederation an established fact. "During the fifty years of its existence the Company's undertaking has expended with the growth of the country," he said, "until its property investment now represents more than $1,100,000,000, held by not less than 180,000 share and security holders, over 50,000 of whom are Canadians. Since 1903 the Company has invested $170,000,000 Ordinary Capital Stock at an average premium of 45%, resulting therefrom $232,500,000 all without expense to the Dominion, direct or indirect. At that average price, a dividend of 5% yields a return of only 3.53% to the shareholders on their investment. It is my submission to your Committee that the magnitude of their undertaking and its importance to the country entitles them to consideration in any legislative measure affecting their control of their property. They have provided Canada with a transportation service on land and sea that is unequalled in the world, and there is no part of her settled territory and no phase of her commercial life and welfare that is not touched by the operations of the Company and concerned in the continued success of its enterprise. As the Royal Commission has said, the Company is Canada's largest taxpayer. Its tax bill during the last ten years averaged more than $7,000,000 per annum, and since its incorporation it has paid upward of $110,000,000 in taxes. During the last fifteen years, it has contributed to the Federal exchequer the sum of $25,500,000. As a citizen it has contributed its full share to institutions of a public nature for the advancement of social and commercial welfare. "The Company, he continued, has been the foremost agency in Canada in the work of colonization, immigration and development, and as a war effort had been able to advance or guarantee to the Empire more than $100,000,000, and to furnish means of transportation for approximately 1,000,000 soldiers and 4,000,000 tons of war supplies.

Mr. Beatty referred to the consolidation of the Government railways ten years ago. The Canadian National had at once begun an active and aggressive campaign of competition backed by the credit and resources of the Government. To alleviate the situation arising out of that competition the Bill proposed close co-operation between the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific in order to effect necessary economies. "So far as the Canadian Pacific is concerned," he continued, "we would accept a statutory direction that we should co-operate because we are willing to co-operate. We are satisfied that a fuller measure of co-operation will be secured from three causes, first, the necessities of the situation; secondly, the statutory direction by Parliament that this should be a matter of policy by the private company, and, thirdly, because of the creation of a board of trustees specially charged with the duty of carrying out the policy of Parliament in this respect. "I observe in some of the addresses delivered in the Senate upon the bill that some phases of the measure were advocated or accepted in the belief apparently that there was no other alternative which would bring about the economies so sorely required. Quite obviously, there is only one way in which the maximum economies are obtainable and that is unification for the purpose of administration, whether for a limited number of years or for a long term. The Royal Commission has considered and rejected such a plan for reasons they have explained in the Report, but there can be no doubt of its very great advantages from the point of view of economy and efficiency. "I am not an alarmist, nor am I a pessimist so far as Canada is concerned. I commend, however, to the committee the conclusions in the last paragraph of the Report of the Royal Commission as to the effect on the Dominion's finances and on the Company's position unless we take heed of the present grave situation and adopt drastic measures to correct it. I have already said that I regard the Railway problem as the most vital domestic problem confronting the Canadian people. In spite of its importance, there is a great lack of understanding of what the real facts are and in consequence there has been until recently very widespread apathy about it."

Mr. Beatty pointed out that the Royal Commission had found that the identity of the two railways should be maintained, but that there should be a maximum of co-operation with a continuance of competition. A maximum of good will would be necessary to reconcile competition and co-operation, and he believed that better results could be obtained through friendly efforts than through an Arbitral Tribunal. "The very fact that a higher authority exists will tend to relax these efforts by weakening responsibility," he declared. "I urge this in the interest of both companies. And it is a peculiar commentary on the logic of the Commission's findings when we read that consolidation for the purpose of administration is rejected because it would put too great a power in the hands of a few men. This menace, in their judgment, is overcome by putting it into the hands of one man."

Mr. Geo. Smith of south of Hean suffered a nasty accident last Saturday when the reach of the double box wagon, in which he was taking a load of grain to Greenshields, broke, and threw Mr. Smith to the ground. Luckily no bones were broken but

Mr. Smith was so badly shaken and bruised that he will be confined to his home for several days.

After quite a stay at Biggar, Misses Gertrude Springer and Emma Gehring returned home last week.

The mayor and town secretary are in Edmonton this week attending the Municipal convention there.

We had the pleasure of extending welcome last week to Mrs. Minnie Snyder of Glencoe, Minn., U.S.A. This is Mrs. Snyder's second visit here and she will be staying with her son, Robert A. for most of the winter.

Mr. H. Pilgrim, night engineer at the power plant, had the misfortune to sustain a badly smashed hand last week while executing some repairs on the machinery.

Mr. George Hunt, of Heath, died last Wednesday at Saskatoon where he had been taken to receive special medical care. He was 75 years old. Mr. Hunt was a well known railroad man in his younger days. At one time he was a high official with the Great Northern Railway of England. He was also at one time general manager of the Argentine Railways. He has spent his later years near Heath where he had a large farm.

Mrs. W. J. O'Callaghan was away to Lacombe last week on a short visit with friends there.

The Misses Bessie Welch, Grace Welch and Josephine Middlemass are expected home from The Alberta University this week-end for the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. N. B. Kenny, who has spent some time at her parental home at Clarksburg, Ont., on account of the severe illness of her father, returned to her home in Wainwright last Friday. She reports that the health of her father had improved slightly before her departure.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Chartier and family from Black Diamond arrived last week to pay a week-end visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Rajotte.

A fatality was very narrowly averted last Saturday night when Joe Cameron and H. Spavin nearly passed out via the Carbon Monoxide route. They were bringing a truck load of grain to town, and owing to the exhaust pipe from the engine breaking off, the fumes entered the closed cabin. The men became violently sick suddenly, but managed to stop the engine and roll out of the cab before losing consciousness. A passing motorist saw them lying by the roadside and gave them aid.

HOW DO YOU DO?

What is it that we really care most about? It might be said in reply that most people are chiefly concerned with the collection of dollars which they will use to secure the comforts they want and which will give them a sense of security. But is this so? Do we not all realize, consciously or unconsciously, that the enjoyment of material things depends on health? The first question which we ask our friends is "How do you do?" and not "How is your bank account to-day?"

It may be said that we ask the question as a mere matter of custom, without expecting an answer. It is true, nevertheless, that we regret the loss of health, physical or mental, as the most serious matter which can affect either ourselves or our friends. The loss of physical or mental vigour is the one undesirable penalty of advancing years.

More money is now expended to maintain health than ever before. Through taxation, considerable sums are provided to enable public health departments to protect their communities from disease. Individually, people are paying their family physician to give them regular health examinations and advice on how to keep well.

More money can now be expended profitably because more knowledge is now available concerning the prevention of disease and the promotion of health. Previous generations were just as anxious as we to avoid disease, but until the cause or manner of spread of a disease is discovered, very little can be done to control that disease. We are fortunate in that we live in an age which has been made comparatively safe through the application of medical science.

It costs money to secure protection from disease. We need to devote time and thought to the safeguarding of our own health. Such expenditures, whether they be of time or money, are an economy from what ever point they are viewed. Disease is expensive in that it calls for the expenditure of money and waste of time, to say nothing of the suffering that illness entails.

We can say "Very well, thank you," and mean it, to our enquiring friends if we give reasonable consideration, day by day, to the practice of simple habits of healthy living—an adequate, balanced diet, quantities of fresh air and sunshine, sufficient rest and exercise, body cleanliness and regular elimination. Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 181 College St., Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

When We Were All Much Younger

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Dec. 11, 1912

In one of the cleanest, keenest and most exciting contests in history, ex-councillor Lally was elected mayor of Wainwright. Out of a total of 110 votes, Lally secured 60 or a plurality of 10 votes.

The Star will move into its new home this week, the process of moving commencing tomorrow. This has been delayed for more than three weeks on account of a car of flooring going astray.

While walking at his usual brisk pace down Third avenue last Saturday night, W. J. McLean, principal of the school tumbled into a prop, which supported the front of the Wright building. He struck the plank about his nose and cheek bone and bled profusely before he received temporary treatment at the Imperial Lumber Co. office.

On Tuesday, November 19, at the Presbyterian church, Wainwright, David Wesley Stouffer and Eleanor Gibson Pick were united in marriage.

Beer is a nourishing food

Professor Gaertner, in his "Manual of Hygiene," says:-

"As to quantity of carbohydrates, one quart of beer is equal in food value to three-tenths of a pound of bread, and from the protein standpoint it is equal to two ounces of bread."

A.Y.P.A. HELD WHIST PARTY FRI. EVENING

A whist drive and country store night, followed by a dance and refreshments, was held Friday evening by the Anglican Young People's association. Fifteen tables of whist were played, the round of pre-Christmas festivities cutting down the attendance.

The prize for holding the lucky number was won by Joe Collett. Whist prizes were won by the following persons: Mrs. Frank McLeod, ladies high; Miss Edith Steele, ladies second; Miss Edwina Cook, ladies third; Emil Michon, men's high; Mr. Ford, men's second; Mr. Teasdale of Moperton, men's third.

Members of the orchestra playing for the dance which followed cards were Miss Beatrice McKay, Mrs. Genderton and Henry Leroux. A most enjoyable evening was reported by guests at the affair.

Anglican Women

Met Wednesday

General business discussion featured the monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Anglican church at the home of the president, Mrs. C. T. Lally, Wednesday evening.

Hospital visitors for the next month will be Mrs. Frank McLeod, Mrs. Hardy, Mrs. Geo. Arkwright and Mrs. Lally. Discussion took place regarding the relief concert to be staged by the local band Dec. 22. All the members voted loyal support. Mrs. C. N. Bateman and Mrs. Frank McLeod were sent as delegates to the meeting held by the W.I.

A donation of $10 was given to the local Sunday School, and $10 was given to the Anglican social service of the Edmonton diocese. The president reported that the church organ was fully paid for.

The next meeting will be held at the vicarage on Jan. 4, 1933. All members are especially invited to be present as the yearly reports will be given. Election of officers will also be held at that time.

Auburndale U.F.W.A.

Met Last Thursday

The regular meeting of the Auburndale U.F.W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Eyben Thursday afternoon. Officers for the coming year were elected: Miss Dorothy Hetherington, president; Mrs. A. Everett, vice-president; Miss Bertha Caron, secretary-treasurer.

Officers Named

by U.C.W.A.

Mrs. Lyle was re-elected president of the United Church Women's association at their December meeting Tuesday of last week at the home of Mrs. W. J. Huntingford. Other officers named were: Mrs. Bowerman, vice-president; Mrs. Fish, secretary; Mrs. Robinson, treasurer; Mrs. Huston, financial secretary.

Mrs. Thomas was in charge of the devotional exercises preceding the business meeting. Delicious refreshments were served after the session by the hostess.

Keith Hughes of

Greenhills Wed

The Picton Gazette reports the marriage of Keith Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Hughes of Greenhills, on Nov. 26 to Miss Gurtha Collier at Port Milford. The ceremony was performed at the Milford United Church Saturday, Nov. 26, by the Rev. S. F. Dixon.

ANNUAL CONCERT

Tuesday, Dec 20

ELITE THEATRE

UNITED CHURCH S.S. CHRISTMAS TREE FRI.

The annual Christmas concert and gift service of the Sunday school of the United Church will be held Friday evening at the church at 7:30 o'clock.

The program will open with the traditional white gift service, during which the story of the white gifts will be told and the children will bring the gifts. Numbers by the beginners, a Christmas pageant under the direction of Mrs. Armstrong, several Christmas choruses and some recitations will make up the rest of the program.

Sunnyvale U.F.W.A.

Held Whist Drive

The whist drive and dance held by the Sunnyvale U.F.W.A. at the Rosedale hall Friday evening was a success in spite of cold weather and flu. Prizes in whist went to: Roy Hore, evening's high; Mrs. W. Avison, women's high; Miss Gwen Moore, ladies second; Fred Lowe, men's high; C. G. Moore men's second. Stanley Postans held the lucky ticket. Music for the dance was supplied by the G.H. Edge orchestra.

Christmas Customs

Discussed Sunday

Christmas customs of other lands were discussed at the meeting of the United Church Young People's society Sunday evening. Talks on that subject were given by Lulu Frouser, Bessie Bowerman and Muriel Durant. The program was under the direction of the citizenship committee, with Ed Turner as chairman. Plans were also discussed for the debate to be held with the Anglican Young People's association in January on the topic of annexation of Canada to the United States.

Coming Events

O.E.P.

Election of officers will be held at the regular meeting of the Order of Eastern Star tonight (Wednesday) at 8 o'clock at the Masonic hall.

Rebekah

The regular meeting of the Adeline Rebekah lodge, I.O.O.F., will be held Thursday evening at the hall.

United Church

The United Church Sunday school Christmas concert and tree will be held at the church Friday evening, Dec. 16, at 7:30 p.m.

St. Joseph's

The music pupils of St. Joseph's convent will give a concert Tuesday evening, Dec. 20.

Auburndale Items

The regular meeting of the U.F.W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Eyben Thursday afternoon. Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Miss Dorothy Hetherington, president; Mrs. A. Everett, vice-president; Miss Bertha Caron, secretary-treasurer. The ladies responded with donations to an appeal from the Eventide home. A delicious supper was served by the hostess.

A wedding of much interest was solemnized in Edmonton, Monday, Dec. 5, when Miss Agnes Irving, daughter of A. Irving of Cummings, became the bride of Alfred Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Green of Auburndale. Mr. and Mrs. Green will reside in their new home in the Willoughby district.

A Christmas tree fund dance was held in Paschenedale school Friday evening and a large crowd was in attendance. The music was supplied by the Coulman orchestra.

The U.F.W.A. of Battlevue held a bazaar and dance in Battlevue school Friday evening. Hector Lawrence has returned from Calgary, where he attended the funeral of his brother.

Maoid Everett is home again after an extended visit in Calgary.

A wedding of much interest in this vicinity was solemnized at Edmonton Monday, Dec. 5, when Miss Agnes Irving, daughter of A. Irving of Cummings, became the bride of Alfred Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Green of Auburndale. The couple will make their home in the Willoughby district.

POEM
By Cecil Ricker, Grade XI.

I am lonesome in the daytime, when all the stars are gone.

I long for evening shadows, and the blaze of setting sun.

Then as the twilight deepens, and all the earth is still,

The coloured sky is greyed, and slowly changes blue.

Then on this dark, rich background the tiny stars appear,

And call and twinkle merrily, and ever beckon near.

At first they peep out cautiously, then come out in a rush—

To cover that rich background with sparkling diamond dust.

Our community was very much grieved over the week-end by the news of the sudden death of the five-year-old son of Mrs. Watson. Clayton was playing around his home Saturday night when he was subject to a severe coughing spell. This proved to be too much for his lungs and he died within a very few minutes. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. W. Bainbridge yesterday afternoon, when a large number of friends gathered to express their sympathy. Our thoughts and prayers go out to the members of this family in their sad bereavement.

NEW FOOD RESEARCH

Recent nutritional research discloses the fact that canned pineapple has more known health values than any other fruit, similarly subjected to scientific study.

It combines not only certain important health qualities found in other fruits and fruit juices—but also many of those found in tomato, but, butter, raisins and prunes.

It has been learned that canned pineapple is a generous source of vitamins A, B and C.

The conclusions drawn from the comprehensive research have been made public in the interests of public health.

According to many authorities vitamin A is important in building up the resistance of the body against infections, one of which may be the common cold. This vitamin, in sufficient quantities, is frequently lacking in the ordinary diet. Vitamin B is indispensable for normal growth. Vitamin C is the anti-scurvy vitamin and pineapple is a generous source of supply. Authorities on nutrition emphasize the necessity of a generous supply of the vitamins in the diet to safeguard good health.

THE HEART OF NEW YORK COMING TO ELITE THEATRE

Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday the Elite Theatre will present "The Heart of New York," a Warner Bros. and Vitaphone picture featuring Joe Smith, Charles Dale, George Sidney and a strong special cast. "The Heart of New York" is based on the life of the same roles played a year's run during New York's last theatrical season. Joe Smith and Charles Dale, prominent for more than twenty years as the mainstays of the "Avon Comedy Four," vaude-addition George Sidney plays the part in the picture as they had in the New York production of the play. In addition, George Sidney plays the part of Mendel, the family head who preferred inventing dish-washing machines to securing a livelihood for his family. The large supporting cast includes Alina MacMahon, stage star who scored a personal hit as Edward G. Robinson's secretary in "Five Star Final," and Anna Appel, prominent New York actress.

"The Heart of New York" was directed by Mervyn LeRoy, youngest of Hollywood's great directors, who has to his credit such achievements as "Five Star Final," "Little Caesar," "Local Boy Makes Good" and "Hill Pressure." LeRoy brings to "The Heart of New York" several directorial departures which reflect his ability to keep pace with public requirements.

The original play, "Mendel, Inc.," brought a new type of drama to the stage which has been transposed to the screen with complete fidelity in "The Heart of New York." The story is more dramatic than comic, comedy, however, playing a prominent part in the progress of the drama. "The Heart of New York" contains the pathos of New York's East Side life, lightened by the comic incident which occurs to real people. The picture is essentially a dramatic study of how the "four million" live, using the Mendel family as the focal point for plot development.

Mervyn LeRoy, director of the picture, made a special trip to New York, accompanied by his assistant, Gordon Hollingshead, and a cameraman, in order to make authentic scenes of the locale which was to be the background of the story. The director and camera crew went about their work very quietly and unobtrusively, in order not to disturb the equanimity of residents who ordinarily look on strangers and cameras with suspicion. As the crew took its film, the sound truck followed them, recording the sounds of the East Side streets. Scenes were taken in front of shops and tenements. The pushcarts which line the curbs were filmed exactly as they are.

Greenshield News

By Miss L. Morrison

Greenshields United Church Service, (Rev. Huston, Minister)—Services held in Greenshields School house, as follows: Sunday School at 2:30 p.m., followed by preaching at 3:30 p.m.

Many of our readers will be interested in the following wedding announcement which appeared in the Picton Gazette of Dec. 1:

HUGHES-COLLIER

"In Milford United church on Saturday, Nov. 26th, 1932, by Rev. S. F. Dixon, Gurtha Collier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Collier, Port Milford, to Keith Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Hughes of Greenshields, Alberta."

Miss Stella Gardner was able to reopen House Lake school on Thursday last after suffering from an attack of the flu.

The Greenshields school dance last Friday evening proved a very jolly affair although on account of cold weather the crowd was not as large as anticipated. Many old-time dances were enjoyed. The music was supplied by Miss Verna Wilhelm and Messrs. Ganderton, Gano, Beschell, Mills and Jackson.

Members of the Greenshields Sunday school are asked to note that next Sunday, Dec. 18th, will be the "white gifts" day. Parcels can then be distributed before Christmas day.

Mr. D. A. McDougall has been suffering with the flu for several days and is now under doctor's care.

Mr. "Slim" Bath left Monday afternoon for Abbe, Alta., to resume his duties on his homestead.

The Greenshields Christmas tree and concert will be held at 2:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 22.

Every man's life is an acted philosophy of one kind or another.

Gilt Edge Echoes

By Miss L. Plaxton

Gilt Edge Service (English Church)—Services next Sunday at 3 p.m. and every other Sunday at 3 p.m.

We hear that the flu is very prevalent in Gilt Edge now.

A crowd of the Gilt Edge young folks took in the dance at Rosedale last Friday night, and it was reported that they all had a dandy time.

Owing to the cold weather the card party and dance scheduled at Gilt Edge park Wednesday night was postponed to Friday, Dec. 15.

Heath Breezes

By W. N. L'Heureux

The Heath elevators will be closed from December 23rd to December 27th inclusive, for the Christmas holiday.

The Heath Gospel Mission met three nights this week to hear Mr. Silverides of Three Hills and Mr. Kittbridge of Wainwright.

Mr. P. Spadey of Gilt Edge was a week-end visitor and was seen riding his horse backwards while homeward bound.

The Heath school Christmas concert will be held on Thursday night, Dec. 22. Everybody welcome. A dance is to follow the concert.

If it's Black Diamond coal see the Bawit agent.

The Rose Willow W.I. held a meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Hedlund and elected two new members, Mrs. E. Dahl as president, Mrs. A. Dahlgren as secretary.

A special meeting of Grangedale school ratepayers was held on Saturday to discuss school matters.

The population of Heath is the same with no increase or decrease.

Fabyan Briefs

By Mrs. H. E. MacDonald

Fabyan United Service (Rev. W. Huston, Minister).—Sunday School at 12:30. Preaching at 1:30.

Miss Irene Mills paid a visit this week to her folks, Mr. and Mrs. Hartman Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Strols this week have a visitor here from Vancouver for a short holiday.

Mrs. Paul Dabel is shipping 70 turkeys to Vancouver this week.

Don't forget the big dance at Fabyan Friday, Dec. 16. Come and have a good time.

George Madder has been on the sick list this past week.

S. E. Hackett of the British American Oil company was a visitor to Fabyan this week.

A large crowd attended the Passendale dance and everyone had a good time, a good supper and a chance to enjoy good music.

CREAMERY SHORT COURSE

A creamery Short Course is being offered jointly by the University of Alberta and the Provincial Department of Agriculture to commence Wednesday January 4th, in the Department of Dairying, University of Alberta, and will run through to the 17th. This course is intended primarily for persons with some practical experience in creamery work. There will be no tuition fee. Further particulars regarding the course can be obtained from the Dairy Branch Provincial Department of Agriculture, or the Department of Dairying University of Alberta.

Rosedale Reports

By Mrs. Howard Gilbert

The United Church service is held every two weeks at Rosedale Hall, Rev. W. Bainbridge, of Edgerton, pastor. Service at 2:30 p.m., Sunday School at 3:30 p.m.

The Sunnyvale U.F.W.A. met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Guthrie, but owing to severe cold weather and the "flu" epidemic, it was poorly attended. The few ladies who were present decided not to hold a meeting and the election of officers was postponed until the January meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Reynolds. The ladies spent the afternoon playing bridge and the hostess served a delicious luncheon.

A "flu" germ flew in from somewhere and did we all catch it? O. boy! Saddle Hill school has had an attendance all week of six or eight out of an enrollment of 26, not to mention the grown-ups! However, we believe everyone is progressing favorably and are in hopes that the cold snap will put a stop to the epidemic.

The Bible study class was held at the home of Mrs. C. G. Moore Thursday evening, and despite cold weather and flu there was a fair attendance. Rev. Bainbridge was present with the lantern slides of the Canadian Rockies which were greatly enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. John Guthrie Jr. spent the week-end with the former's parents of this district.

The U.F.W.A. whist drive and dance held in the Rosedale hall Friday evening was a success in spite of cold weather and flu germs. Everyone reports a good time. Honors in whist were awarded as follows: Roy Hare, high score of evening (turkey prize); Mrs. W. Avison and Miss Gwen Moore tied for first prize, and on the cut Mrs. Avison got first and Miss Moore second; gentlemen's first went to Fred Lowe and second to C. G. Moore. Stanley Postans held the lucky ticket on the silk scarf. The music for the dance was supplied by the Gilt Edge orchestra. Details for the junior's handicraft work will be printed next week.

Sydenham Says

By John Moore

The Sydenham patrol of Boy Scouts have changed their meetings from Tuesday night to 2:30 Saturday afternoon for the winter months. Any boy desirous of becoming a member is asked to get in touch with John Moore.

Mr. Harry Elliott suffered from a frozen face and ear last week.

Trouble is being experienced with the natural gas supply to the Farmers Oil Refinery and other houses, owing to the gas well freezing up.

The framework for the new boiler house to replace the former building which was destroyed by fire has been erected on the J. W. Fraser refinery property. It is understood that the new boiler house will be a corrugated metal structure.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kinghorn were visitors Sunday to their daughter, Mrs. Stanley Valleeau.

We are pleased to learn that Jean Dixon is back in school after her illness.

Allen Glenn is expected home from the buffalo park the end of this week.

Mrs. Stadsnaug is taking one of her turkeys to the Sydenham whist drive and dance for a prize on the 16th, this Friday. Be sure to be there—you may win it.

The Sydenham school Christmas examinations have commenced and the marks may appear in print next week, so get busy, kids!

Many cars have been put away for the winter, but Austin Kinghorn is overcoming this difficulty by manufacturing a snow bug, which according to him, will go anywhere.

There is nothing so fatal to character as half-finished tasks.—David Lloyd George.

Miss Ethel Chapman makes this novel LUXOR CAKE with Magic Baking Powder

"My advice to all housewives, both skilled and inexperienced, is: Use Magic Baking Powder. Then there is no uncertainty about your baking," says Miss Ethel Chapman, Editor of the Home Section in the Ontario Farmer.

This unqualified statement is particularly impressive because thrifty Canadian housewives have learned that Miss Chapman's advice is invariably practical.

Other well-known food experts and cookery teachers in the Dominion share Miss Chapman's high opinion of Magic. In fact, the majority of them—and housewives, too—use Magic exclusively. No wonder Magic outsells all other baking powders combined!

Miss Chapman's recipe for 'LUXOR CAKE'

1 cup fine granulated sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
½ cup egg yolks
½ cup lukewarm water
1½ cups Magic Baking Powder
1½ cups pastry flour (or 3 tablespoons less of bread flour)
2 teaspoons Magic Baking Powder
½ teaspoon salt

With sugar, measure out 2 tablespoons, pour on vanilla extract and set aside. Add water and soda to egg yolks; beat with egg beater until foamy. Add sugar a little at a time, beating in well. Add sifted flour and beat. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Fold carefully into mixture; pour in ungreased angel cake pan. Bake in moderate oven at 350° F. for 45 to 50 minutes. Invert pan and let stand until cake is cold, when, with the aid of a spatula, it will slip from pan. Remove all crumbs and moisten crust from surface and cut in three layers. Spread Lemon Cream Filling between layers. Ice top and sides with Marshmallow Seven Minute Frosting. (Recipes for filling and frosting are in the Magic Cook Book—see free offer below.)

FREE—Send for the Magic Cook Book to use when you bake at home. Address: Standard Brands Ltd., Fraser Ave. and Liberty Street, Toronto, Ont.

Christmas Dishes

DELICIOUS BREAKFASTS

Serve sensible breakfasts. Ham and eggs, pancakes, mackerel, buns, lamb chops, cakes, biscuits, corn bread, bacon and fried bread are all excellent foods, but not one of them is an alkaline-reaction food. Therefore a breakfast limited to a collection of these is terribly unbalanced. A glass of orange juice and a liberal quantity of milk on the cereal will go far towards balancing breakfast—for fruits, vegetables and milk are the three big alkaline-reaction foods.

Remember this, not only at breakfast but when preparing the other meals.

Orange Meat Salad
(Serves 6)
2 cups cold roast lamb (veal, chicken or duck)
Lettuce

Cut the meat (lamb, veal, chicken or duck) into small pieces and marinate in Salad Marinade. Peel oranges and meat and serve on crisp lettuce leaves, with French Dressing.

Baked Orange Marie
(Serves 8)

8 oranges
8 dates, stoned and chopped
1 tablespoon coconut
1 tablespoon raisins
1 tablespoon chopped walnuts

Cut off tops of oranges. With a sharp paring knife hollow out a small portion of each orange near the top. Then work the knife around to lift out pieces of the remaining pulp, until orange shell is clean. Mix orange pulp with dates, coconut, raisins and nut meats. Return to orange shells. Place oranges in a of water in bottom of pan. Take out baking dish with ½ inch of water in bottom of pan. Bake in a slow oven for 45 minutes. Take out of oven and, put on each orange a spoonful of meringue made from:

1 egg white, stiffly beaten
1 teaspoon sugar

Sprinkle meringue with coconut and return oranges to oven to brown. Serve hot or cold. A marshmallow may be used to top each orange in place of meringue.

Cumberland Sauce for Duck
(Serves 4-6)

1½ cup orange juice
1 cup lemon juice
1 cup powdered sugar
2 tablespoons currant jelly
Grated rind 1 orange
Grated rind 1 lemon
1 tablespoon grated horseradish

Mix ingredients; beat thoroughly; heat and serve.

HOTS AND COLDS

November is the month when both the cold and the hot dainty seems to be in order—one lingering because of its deliciousness, while the other clamors for attention because of the falling temperature. Here are two recipes that fit into November and the "depression" as well:

Sweet Potato Pone
2 cups cooked and seasoned sweet potatoes, mashed
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1½ cup hot water
1 cup crumbled ginger snaps
2 tablespoons butter

Put sweet potatoes in buttered pudding dish and sprinkle with sugar. Over this pour hot water. Crumble ginger snaps and mix with softened butter. Spread over top of prepared potatoes. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) 20 minutes. Six portions.

Economy Snack

Try pretzels and ice cream for a late snack at night—whether company is present or not. Coffee, tea, cocoa or any hot beverage will blend with this unusual yet tasteful dish.

Another choice nocturnal morsel is country rarebit, which is easy to make. While stirring a tablespoonful of flour in the same quantity of melted butter, slowly add three-quarters of a cup of milk and cook for two minutes, before putting in a half pound of soft, mild cheese, cut in small pieces. Season with salt, cayenne pepper and a dash of mustard, continuing to stir until the cheese is fully melted. It is served on butter wafers or flake soda crackers.

Holiday Fruit Cup
(Serves 12)

6 oranges
2 small grapefruit
1 cup white cherries, stoned
6 tablespoons lemon juice
2 cups powdered sugar

Rubettes and empanadas

Segment oranges and grapefruit. Combine, fruits and sprinkle with lemon juice and sugar. Chill well and add rubettes and empanadas.

The color note of the red and green garlands may be further developed by serving fruit in double cocktail glasses with finely chopped green or red-lit ice in outer glass. Ice is made in iceless refrigerator from water to which vegetable coloring has been added.

NEW FRENCH GLASS

PERMITS STONES CAST

According to the Christian Science Monitor streets of glittering glass houses and brightly day-lit offices are envisaged as a result of a visit to a factory at St. Helens, Lancs., Eng., which is manufacturing a new armor-plate glass with steel-like properties.

Tests carried out by Government officials and business house representatives have substantiated claims made about this glass—a French invention—which were at first considered extravagant. It attracted great interest at a recent building trades exhibition in London.

One of London's latest and most up-to-date buildings—the Daily Express office in Fleet Street—is entirely faced with black and natural colored glass.

The new armor-plate glass is an ordinary glass which has undergone special treatment. While it retains the transparency and weathering properties of ordinary glass, it will stand a dead load three to four times as great as that necessary to fracture ordinary plate glass.

A steel ball which will break a piece of ordinary plate-glass when dropped from a height of 20 inches has to be taken to a height of at least 12 feet before it will break a piece of armor-plate glass.

The new material, when it does break, shatters into tiny fragments which are too small to cause anything but superficial scratches. It will bend three or four times as far as ordinary glass before breaking.

Molten at a temperature of 620 degrees Fahrenheit will not break it, and at 15 degrees below zero, or 47 degrees of frost it has resisted a blow just as well as at ordinary temperature.

Eighty per cent of the tornadoes in the U.S. occur between noon and 6 p.m.

A golf ball has been driven at more than 120 miles an hour by Gen. Sarazen.

Composite Pants—They're Here at Last; Play Golf, Ride 'Hossback' in 'Golf-Jods'

LONDON.—A rival to "plus-fours," one of the most popular fashions of the Englishman's wardrobe, has appeared here in the form of the "golf-jod." This new garment is a combination of golf knicker and riding jodhpurs (a form of breeches of Indian origin). It is made of fine tweed, obviates the need of stockings and has an elastic and slip fastener at the ankle. Its designer claims it to be the ideal garment for the golf links.

The close-fitting knickerbockers of the beginning of the 20th century blossomed into more voluminous plus-fours about two decades ago. At first this garment was worn almost exclusively by golfers. It was supposed to adorn only the legs of the most skilled players—hence its name, which represented the lowest golf handicap.

Considerable courage was once needed to appear in London's streets in a plus-four suit and few people dared attend their offices thus clad. But gradually the popularity of this style of suit spread, until today it is a widely recognized attire for almost any occasion.

Britishers traveling in Europe in this "fancy dress" used to be a source of great interest and some merriment. In recent years, however, the sight has become commonplace in continental capitals owing to an invasion by a swarm of plus-fours, which are regarded by many English and American globe trotters as ideal sight-seeing apparel.

Can the "golf-jod" take the place of the plus-four suit? It is now asked. The answer appears likely to be in the negative, for although the new fashion may suit golfers, the average man in the street will probably hesitate to discard his fancy stockings, which provide pleasure and scope in their selection.—The Christian Science Monitor.

WHERE THE WHEAT WENT

An interesting picture of the distribution of the 1931 wheat crop is now available from a statement issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, which shows the following distribution: Exports 207,029,555 bushels; Human consumption 41,500,000 bushels; Seed for 1932 crop 36,768,000 bushels; Feed for live stock and poultry 32,806,000 bushels; Loss in cleaning 5,040,000 bushels; Unmarketable 2,838,100; Carryover, July 31, 1932, 130,948,901. A total of 466,713,556 bushels.

MUSICAL PROGRAMS FROM UNIVERSITY RADIOS

Listeners will be delighted to hear that Professor L. H. Nichols will give another Organ Recital on the War Memorial Organ in Convocation Hall on Sunday, December 18th, at 4:00 p.m. At five o'clock, the seventh of a series of Lecture-Recitals on "The Development of Song," arranged by Mr. F. Holden Rumsford, will be broadcast. This recital will be on "Modern Music". On Monday evening at 8:15 p.m. some of the old French carols are to be sung by a French choir. This program will delight both English and French speaking people. May we also remind our listeners of the Continental Concert Orchestra which broadcasts from Vancouver every Wednesday night at 8:45 p.m. over a CNRV-CKUA hook-up. There are a number of interesting talks scheduled for the week of December 18th to 23rd.

Get Rid of That SORE THROAT!

Any little soreness in the throat grows rapidly worse if neglected. Crush some tablets of Aspirin in some water, and gargle at once. This gives you instant relief, and reduces danger from infection. One good gargle and you can feel safe. If all soreness is not gone promptly, repeat. There's usually a cold with the sore throat, so take two tablets to throw off your cold, headache, stiffness or other cold symptoms. Aspirin relieves neuralgia, neuritis, too. Use it freely; it does not hurt the heart.

ASPIRIN

TRADE-MARK REG. IN CANADA

A Ramble Round Town

And then this week we started out in our Rambler's around town and came to Monty's Cash Store. There we found a great lay-out of things to give for Christmas. At Monty's you can find Cigars, Cigarettes, (wrapped in Christmas packages), and Candies, Cookies, Boxed Chocolates, Riley's Toffee (and you can't beat it), Nice Red Apples, Oranges, Fruits and things for the Christmas Fruit cake, and if you don't want to bake your own they have McLevin's rich Fruit cakes already baked for you. "And you can't beat the prices," says Monty.

We breezed into the Monarch Meat Market, and looked over their supply of Turkeys, and what not. Think of a nice fat Turkey for that Christmas dinner, doesn't it make your mouth water? And then they have the stuff for a good hot Mince Meat Pie, and that, in my mind, is all that we would want, Turkey and good hot Mince Meat Pie. And J. Laird says, "We'll deliver it right to your door." And don't forget to get some Oysters. From there we went over to see what Mr. Manners had in his Safeway store. To begin with he had some nice Christmas Trees, and what is Christmas without a tree all decorated up in the good old Yule-tide spirit. Then he has everything to go with a swell Christmas dinner. Everything from Soup to Nuts. In fact you can go in there and get almost everything you will need for the Christmas Dinner. All you have to do is just go in and look over what he has, pick it out yourself, and then you will be sure that you are getting what you want, and it's a good place to save money.

Then we ambled down to the Alma Meat Market and looked over what they had for the Christmas Dinner. And what don't they have? Turkey (nice big ones), tender young Chicken, that taste as good as Turkey, and if you don't want fowl they have fresh meats of other kinds to tempt your taste. And then they have that well known Dill Pickle for the morning after hang-over. And how about oysters, don't THEY go good with that dinner of the Year?

CAN. NATIONAL RLWYS. WEEKLY NEWS ITEMS

In the International Pigeon Show to be held at Pittsburgh, Pa., December 5 to 11, Canada will be represented in the fancy pigeon class by one exhibitor. He is Fred Scavington, of the Canadian National Railways staff in Vancouver. Mr. Scavington is one of the most successful breeders of fancy pigeons in Canada, and has met with much success at previous international exhibitions.

W. Le B. Ross, who recently retired as Treasurer for the Western Region of the Canadian National Railways, was the recipient of a purse of gold, a week ago, from officers of the company. The former treasurer served 45 years in railway service, of which 26 were in Western Canada.

A week before the "official" close of navigation, Great Lakes shipping is slowing down. Insurance rates took their first upward leap November 30, when they rose nearly 12 per cent. Regardless of insurance increases, however, owners are finding it increasingly difficult to obtain cargoes for their craft and before December 12, the "official" closing date, it is predicted that vessels on the inland seas will be tied up.

When S.S. Prince Rupert of the Canadian National Steamships Pacific Coast fleet arrived in port on November 12, it marked the completion of one thousand voyages between Vancouver and Prince Rupert for this popular passenger liner. Captain Harry Nodden is in charge of the ship at the present time and it is worthy of note that, in addition to the regular passenger list on the one thousandth voyage was Mr. S. J. Hungerford, acting president of the Canadian National Railways. Mr. Hungerford was on his first visit to the Pacific Coast since his appointment and was accompanied by Mr. A. E. Warren, vice-president, Western Region, and other officials.

Apart from the departures of small coastal craft and a few belated unscheduled tramp steamers for overseas ports, navigation from Montreal closed for the year with the sailing of the Canadian National freighter, Colborne, last week, for Halifax, Bermuda, Puerto Rico, Guadeloupe, Martinique, Barbados, other islands in the Lesser Antilles, Trinidad and British Guiana.

To provide choice cuts for the Christmas menus of the Canadian National Railways hotels and dining cars, 30 of the prize winning steers at the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto, were bought at the auction sale, which is an annual event on the closing day of the big live-stock show. All the stock was secured at exceptionally low prices. The feature animal bought was the reserve grand champion of the year, a yearling Aberdeen Angus steer, weighing 1,215 pounds, which was bred by A. W. Smith, of Brandon, Man. All told, nine prize winners were purchased for use by Canadian National hotels, and 21 for the dining cars. The outstanding purchase for the National dining cars was that of a carload lot of Pole Angus steers. These were bred by the Alberta government, at the Agricultural Department's farm, at Olds, and numbered 15 yearlings.

Elk or Wapiti are becoming more numerous in that section of the Canadian Rockies adjacent to Jasper National Park, where these and other big game animals find sanctuary, according to reports sent to the Fish and Game Department of the Canadian National Railways. While Jasper Park is a sanctuary, big game hunting is permitted outside of its borders and some excellent bags are taken each season by hunters who go out with guides and outfitters from Jasper Station. Jack Brewster, noted big game hunting outfitter of Jasper, in reporting on his season's activities, states that game this year was very plentiful. In nine days' hunting with one party they secured two Rocky Mountain goats, two Bighorn Sheep, two moose and two caribou. Visiting the Mountain Park for elk hunting, Brewster reports encountering 73 elk on the first day. On the other days he kept no record of numbers but found elk very plentiful throughout the district.

Outside of ghosts and fairy creatures, perhaps the ordinary wind, that plays such pranks with people's hats and does other more serious havoc, is the most illusive thing in the world, since it cannot be cornered or tagged. Where it goes may be a puzzle to scientists, but how fast it blows over a given area has been recorded by the authorities at the Canadian Government Experimental Farm at Ottawa, according to information reaching the Canadian National Railways. Records carefully kept throughout the year show that a total of 35,918 miles of wind passed over the recording point, an average of more than 106 miles per day, or less than 4 1/2 miles per hour. The monthly records show that in January 3,516 miles of wind blew over the recording point, in February 3,670; March 4,166; April 4,664; May 2,906; June 2,520; July 1,640; August 2,600; September 2,940; October 3,390; November 4,000 December 4,002. It is interesting to note that April was the windiest month, and March which is usually supposed to hold the record for blustering winds, was in second place. Third place went to December.

E. A. Weir, supervisor of radio for the Canadian National Railways, has been loaned to the federal radio commission to supervise programmes. Canada's participation in an Empire programme for Christmas will be on of Mr. Weir's first assignments.

When the debonair modern sheik of city or country visits the girl of his dreams to present her with a tangible love offering of something sweet, does he give her a box of chocolates finely decorated and wrapped in cellophane, or just some candies in an ordinary manilla-paper bag? Maybe it all depends where he lives and the opportunity of purchasing what he desires. At any rate, the consumption of both of these kinds of confectionery is about evenly divided among the population of Canada, according to information reaching the Canadian National Railways. Last year there were produced in Canada 51,277,555 pounds of chocolate confectionery and 51,237,157 pounds of sugar confectionery. But the chocolate article, evidently more expensive to produce, was valued at $18,908,632 and the sugar variety $9,060,205. So probably on the basis of cost, the queen of all that is beautiful daintily disposes of the chocolate, while the unsophisticated lass sucks the "honey ball" bulging her cheek.

PUBLIC NOTICE

TOWN OF WAINWRIGHT Public Health Notice

To the Parents and Guardians of Pupils in Attendance at Schools in the Town of Wainwright

The Local Board of Health for the Town of Wainwright respectfully request all parents and guardians of pupils attending the schools in Wainwright to co-operate with the School Boards and teachers in an effort to eradicate from the schools the disease commonly known as itch. A plentiful use of soap and water followed by application of sulphur will be found a simple and inexpensive remedy.

Inserted by the order of the Local Board of Health, this 11th day of December, 1932.

N. S. KENNY, Secretary.

A special meeting of the Grange school elections was held last Saturday, Dec. 10, with 26 members present. At the meeting it was resolved:

Parents—be sure to read the notice published in The Star this week by the local board of health regarding treatment of the "itch" which has been prevalent in school.

Officers for next term elected recently at the local I.O.O.F. lodge included: J.F.G., A. Lilly; N.G., O. Bowen; R.S., T. Lismore; F.S., A. Sowers; Treas., W. Bowen. These will be installed early in the new year.

Mervin Rowe, who has been a patient in the St. Anne's hospital at Hardisty, has returned to his home.

Edmond Messier, who has been living on the Fred Akroyd farm south of town for the past few years has moved his family into town and is occupying the J. Chynoweth house north of the high school.

 Those 23-piece Tea sets that Washburn's Hardware is giving away, free to the first 25 customers that settle their accounts of $15 or more are going fast. Get yours now.

That clause 2, section 161, of the School Act be amended to enable the Department of Education to accept contracts between the School board and teacher, irrespective of the amount stated therein.

A very enjoyable time was had by all at the Bazaar and Dance put on by the U.F.W.A. of Battleview on Friday, December 9. At supper time Charlie Arthur auctioned off the various bazaar articles, and one and all tried their luck at fishing in the fish pond. J. Egrie and R. Garneau furnished the music.

DICKENS' PLAY

For several years past one of the Christmas programs broadcast by CKUA, the University of Alberta station, has been the play arranged and given by the Dickens' Players of Edmonton as guest artists. One of Charles Dickens' Christmas stories is dramatized especially for broadcasting and given in the University Studio with the members of the Edmonton Branch of the Dickens' Fellowship as the seen audience. This year one of Dickens' best short stories, the "Battle of Life", will be used, which, while making an excellent broadcast play from a technical standpoint, contains much sound philosophy of particular interest and application at the present time. The great author himself considered it one of his finest efforts and often wished he had saved the plot for a major story. The "Battle of Life" will be broadcast on Friday evening, December 23rd, at 8:30 p.m.

MISSOURI FARMERS PREPARE FOR GRAIN EXHIBITION

C. A. Helm, secretary of the Missouri Corn Growers' Association, states that the World's Grain Show "can expect a large entry from this State. There is much interest in the show judging from the inquiries that we are constantly receiving. Send us 200 copies of your announcement and prize list for distribution at our certified seed show to be held on December 16 and 17 next."

BUT WE WOULD NOT

ADVISE YOU TO TRY IT! HOW 25¢ GREW RAPIDLY

Here's a story that is going the rounds. Two unemployed men with 25 cents between them spun the coin for the joy of a bath Jones won and departed with the quarter into the public baths. Smith followed him in, stole his clothes, and pawned them for $2.00. Walking down a street he saw clocks being sold in a jeweller's window for $40, one dollar down and the balance in installments. He signed a contract, paid one dollar and took the clock. Further down the street he pawned it for $15 and with the proceeds redeemed Jones' clothes, which he returned. The jeweller, however, had identified his clock in the pawnbroker's window and had Smith arrested. Smith appeared in court, proved he was living up to his contract in the clock purchase and promptly entered a countercharge for false arrest. He was awarded $1.20. Now both Jones and Smith have season tickets to the public baths and an unbounded admiration for jewellers.
